

	Merck for Mothers Birth Story Highlights Facebook Video 5-15-13 / TRT - 1:52
VIDEO	AUDIO
Women in the World (WIW) Logo Animates onto Screen / Background Colors Match WIW Summit Colors / Moves to Bottom Right Corner Text Fades onto Screen: For every birth, there's a story to be told. We asked people at the 2013 Newsweek and The Daily Beast's Women in the World Summit to share their stories...	Music Up
Teboho	I remember the day my son was born, way back in 1979. And the greatest thing for me was actually meeting him.
Jennifer	Because of being twins, I was enormous, and I went five weeks early, and they actually induced me.] [I did have them naturally. They were 20 minutes apart, and they were just beautiful and they were big.
Amelia	I had a complicated pregnancy. So for me, the most memorable thing, my -- my birth was scary and exciting.] [It's changed my life. It gave me purpose. You know, purpose to do -- succeed despite it all.
Erin	I spent most of the day laboring on my own. I made it to a hospital with 11 minutes before he was born. I actually caught him myself, and it was amazing. It was the most empowering, amazing time.
Nancy	After he was born, and I was holding him, just how amazed I was that this child was mine, and this experience had come to fruition in my life.
Kristina	It ended so quickly after being such a long day, and it's just like -- your life changed dramatically, just from that one moment on.
Alisha	She came out and just, the touch, and the smell, and just everything about my baby, to -- to think that I had brought in this life who's now six years old] [To have a baby is a beautiful thing.

Text Fades onto Screen:

Help us make sure that no birth day story goes untold. (all on 1 line)

Text Fades onto Screen:

Share yours today on Facebook.com/MerckforMothers to help us celebrate the inspiring and touching moments of a mother giving birth.

Merck Logo & for Merck for Mothers Logo
Animate onto Screen with Swoosh

Fade to Black

Music Resolves / TRT - 1:52